Home For The Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Marshall of Appomattox, were among the many grandparents to share holiday fun with their children and grandchildren. Their son, Douglas Marshall, of Rochester, New York, is shown above with his wife and their two children, Connie, 5, and Neil Forrest, 3, as a photographer snapped them at the home of Mrs. Marshall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shonk, of Kanawha Blvd., Charleston. They divided their holiday with the Shonks and Marshalls and then returned to Rochester where Mr. Marshall is an instructor at the School of Technology, Rochester College, Rochester, New York. This was also printed in the Charleston Daily Mail.

New Locations Named For Type Two Sabin Clinics

Type Two Sabin Oral vaccine will be given in Appomattox County on Sunday, January 19, in the second of three planned SOS drives under the sponsorship of the Lions Club working with local physicians and the Lynchburg Academy of Medicine. Local nurses and physicians will once again be in attendance, and the vaccine will be distributed on sugar cubes, by dropper to infants and to young children in a spoon or paper cup.

In Appomattox three clinics will be in operation: Appomattox High School cafeteria, Pamplin Elementary School cafeteria, and Oakville Elementary School. You are asked to fill out the application B'lank printed on page of the TIMES-VIRGINIAN. Take this informa'on and your family and guests to the most convenient clinic location.

Hours for this clinic will be noon to 5 p.m. More than 6,000 doses of Sabin Type I were distributed and the Lions Club and local medical and health authorities are hopeful that this next clinic will be even more successful.

Board Elects Martin, Chm.

The Appomattox county Board of Supervisors, meeting Wednesday morning, elected Otho W. Martin, Jr., Stonewall Supervisor, as chairman.

Dr. Francis Clements, director of the county Health Department gave his annual report, and made a plea for a new Health Center. Both Clements and the county sanitarian, G. A. Pitsenbarger reported that with the assistance of various funds available to the county, the county's share of costs in such a building might run to about $20,000, and that this might be lowered even further with the help of unused funds now held by county organizations.

Supervisors named the following to the committee: Eugene Carson, Harry Gordon Lawson, Dr. A. Frazrick, DeWitt Evans, Curry Harvey, G. A. Pitsenberger, W. C. Dudley, and Dr. Clyde G. O'Brien. They were authorized to investigate a location, funds, architect, and other pertinent matters and to report to the February 12 meeting.

P-TA Will Meet January 23rd

The Appomattox Elementary School P-TA will meet on January 23 instead of January 16, according to president Billy Conner. Speaker will be Earl Edwards, of Richmond, health educator for the Virginia Dept. of Health. Dr. A. A. Fratrick is in charge of the program. Patrons and other interested persons are asked to note the change in meeting date from the usual meeting time to Thursday, January 23, at 8 p.m.

Red Cross Names Fund Chairman

William Hunter, Chapter Chairman of the Appomattox County Red Cross Chapter announces the appointment of Reverend M. G. Stinson as the 1964 Fund Campaign chairman.

The campaign will be held in March.

Hunter says that funds are urgently needed inasmuch as the chapter has almost completely exhausted its funds. At the present time the chapter has only a $16 balance in its treasury to meet local program needs.

Mrs. Don Moses, home service chairman, is deeply concerned. Hunter added, since she has almost no funds to send messages to get local servicemen home on emergency leave. She is also concerned because the Chapter has not been able to give financial assistance to disaster sufferers. In the past, when the Chapter had funds, this was one of the largest programs, and many people who were burned out were able to get food and clothing without charge from the local Red Cross Chapter.

In the past several years the Chapter has received fewer and fewer funds while the costs of operating the Chapter have increased with most of the funds going to support the blood program.

David Snow, Red Cross Field Representative for the Appomattox Chapter states that Mrs. Moses, a volunteer, has had to use her own funds from time to time to meet the Red Cross needs. "No one connected with Red Cross in Appomattox gets any salary," Snow stated. He is also concerned, inasmuch as the Appomattox Chapter is in danger of losing the Blood program due to the fact that too few people are willing to donate blood at the Red Cross Bloodmobile. The next Red Cross collection of blood will be in February, according to Dr. A. A. Fratrick, local chairman.

"The Dandy"

Everyone in the photo above is involved in new hairstyles, except, perhaps "Lollipop," the cocker spaniel shown above, who wears his own individual coloring and curls no matter what the fashion. According to beautitieans Iris Garrett and Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, however, "The Dandy" is the newest in hair styling. They have just concluded a postgraduate course in hair styling, coloring, cutting, and shaping held at Ralph's Virginia School of Cosmetology. Their models the day this photo was taken are shown standing next: Mrs. Emma Lemon, Mrs. Vivian Caldwell and Nancy Jamerson. Miss Garrett and Mrs. Robinson are associated with the Appomattox Beauty Shop, owned and operated by Miss Rosa Mae Wooldridge.
